SCHOOL BOARD ORGANIZES

Members From Blue Star, Union Valley and Pleasant Hill Districts Meet with Jasper Board.

Jasper School Board met last Saturday night and organized for the new term. The reelection of J. E. Hull and Jay Good makes the personnel of the board the same as it was before the election. C. L. Hayzlett was reelected president of the board and F. F. Follmer, vice-president.

The following members from outlying country districts met with the Jasper board to discuss the operation of the new county-unit law and its application to their districts: Blue Star, C. M. Wells and Sam King; Union Valley, John Carter and George Earl; Pleasant Hill, E. L. Maxwell and Earl Laudenslager.

The districts named all adjoin the Jasper district and most likely will consolidate with the Jasper district of their own accord instead of taking a chance on the county board to be elected in August and possibly be consolidated with districts in another direction. If the people in these districts act now they can of their own motion consolidate with Jasper before the county unit bill goes into effect the latter part of June. It is a very simple matter, according to our information, for districts to effect this consolidation with stronger districts. A petition may be circulated asking the board to call a meeting to vote on consolidation. When the petition is signed by a majority of the voters of the district the board calls the election and the majority rules in the election. If the district votes to join Jasper the Jasper board simply votes to receive the petitioning district and the consolidation is effected. Blue Star being in Barton County that district would have to get the consent of the Barton County Superintendent of schools in addition to taking action above indicated.

After the county unit law goes into effect these consolidations are voted on by the county as a whole, outside of first-class school districts, and the people in the districts can not control the matter so easily.

At this time Blue Star has 25 pupils (they having consolidated with Dublin a year ago), Pleasant Hill has 7 or 8 pupils, Union Valley has about the same, but is not having a school, preferring to pay the tuition of their pupils to come to Jasper.

Of course Jasper desires these districts to come in with us so that the district may be as strong as possible and enable it to enlarge its school work and add agricultural and domestic science branches, and it is also very much to the advantage of these smaller districts to become a part of a strong district already well established.

A big advantage to the country districts when they join a district having an established first-class high school is that they get a first-class high school for no more taxes than if they were consolidated with other country districts and get only the second-class school provided by the law.

When a merchant advertises a bargain for the trades-day sale he should have plenty of the article advertised and it should be of standard quality. Otherwise buyers will lose confidence and the sale fail. We must have the confidence of the people.

They Know It When They See It.

Two visitors from a nearby town talking together in Jasper at the recent trades-day sale:

First Visitor—"This ain't much like they do it down in our town, is it. Bill? They bring out a coupla' old plugs and some old harness and a harrow or two and call it a sale. This here is the real thing, now ain't it?"

Bill—"Sure is."

Looking for a Location?

In the last two weeks two grocers, a baker and a shoe maker dropped into Jasper looking for locations.

A baker who knows how to bake and who will attend to business ought to make it go here. And another man Jasper has an opening for is a jeweler and repairer of watches and clocks.

Revival Meetings Continue.

The revival meetings conducted by the Church of God continue with unabated interest, the seating capacity of the hall being taxed to the limit much of the time. Most of the preaching is done by Rev. Paul Bennett of Brice, Mo. Other ministers assisting are A. C. Bennett and L. Roy Lee of Carthage and G. E. Wright of Thornton, Tex. Perhaps 50 or 60 come every night from Carthage, and they come from as far north as Forest Grove and from several miles east and west.

Mr. Wright, in an interview with The News, said he had been in the work 25 years and had never been better treated anywhere, and that the order maintained by the congregations here was remarkably good. Mr. Wright has charge of the singing and has a choir of about 75, probably half of them from Carthage. About 50 conversions are reported.

Mr. Wright also stated that those in charge of the meeting were very appreciative of the cooperation of the local people.

You've Got to Pay

Mr. Home Owner: You can't escape the cost of painting. You may take your choice of letting your buildings rot and decay which is the most expensive way, or for a few dollars you can buy White Lead and Linseed Oil, which is much more economical. Let me give you free advice about painting. I have been selling paints for 28 years and can tell you something about paint and will furnish you paints that fit. Stocks complete and prices in most instances far below a year ago. Paints and Varnishes for every purpose.
